

Nicholas Diamond's Personal Mission Statement

I am passionate about music and looking for opportunities to extend my skillset and continue my professional growth as a musician. Drumming is my area of specialization and I have performed at small venues to large clubs and theaters. I am multi-faceted, trained in rock, alternative, pop, R&B, jazz, classical and Christian music. My goals are to continue to develop my musicianship across musical genres through further training and live performances. I also have goals to compose, mix and record. My aspirations are to be a professional drummer, studio musician, composer, producer and performing live. I would also like to teach students what I have learned with my years of experience and skillset.
